January 1, 1979 (Monday)

We started the day quite late but got out into the yard and worked most of the day. We would like to start the garden but it is a bit early yet.

January 2, 1979 (Tuesday)

January 6, 1979 (Saturday)

Did a little shopping so I could do a little cooking. It was raining some more. The wood we gathered sure makes it nice for these cold, rainy days.

However, he did go to his dentist, Dr. Hutchings, and I hurried with my work. We then picked Jane up from school and went to Pine Valley. It turned out a very nice day. The snow was deep but we made it into the house, wading in snow to our hips. That was hard. We found a dead squirrel on the steps.
